Headteacher Message

Firstly, I would like to congratulate our newly elected Pupil Leadership Team. On Wednesday the whole team were inducted into their roles by Mr Walsh (Assistant Headteacher) and I look forward to watching them grow in confidence and develop their leadership skills across the school. This is a fantastic achievement for each and every one of them and I am sure you will be as proud of them as I am.

Barry Bridden
Executive Headteacher

Other exciting news this week, is that our English Department announced that twenty two of our pupils have won prestigious literacy competitions and will become published authors after Christmas. A huge 'well done' to everyone who entered.

On Monday all pupils had their photographs taken in their new school uniform and they looked very smart. Your child will have received a unique card which is required in order to place an order, should you wish to do so.

You can access the photograph using: <https://orders.schoolphotographs.co.uk/tspc/Home>

European Day of Languages

On Tuesday the 24th September we will be celebrating 'European Day of Languages' early at Dean Trust Rose Bridge during a very busy week of events. We believe languages are extremely important and during the day there will be a variety of events on offer to help our pupils discover the value of learning and speaking other languages. During form time, pupils will be looking at sign language, how we hear in foreign languages, tongue-twisters, palindromes, and languages and careers.

There will a competition throughout the day encouraging staff and pupils to use a range of European languages. During break and lunchtime there will be a European menu in the canteen. Finally, Year 7 pupils will have a lesson during the day where they will be 'travelling' to Germany, Spain, Italy and France to take on a wide variety of tasks. We will also be working with our primary schools to share the love of languages over coming weeks.

Poetry Competition Winners

The English Department are proud to share that we have three more published authors in Dean Trust Rose Bridge. Katie Beresford, Diane McKenna and Isabelle Heatherglen all entered 'The Poetry Escape' national competition on National Poetry Day last year. They were each selected from 1000s of entries to be published in a book which will be released after Christmas.

Do you think you have what it takes to be a published poet? Why not join the Young Poets' Club in room EN2 during Wednesday lunchtimes. Next time it could be you!
